Sauvignon Blanc The primary fruit flavors of Sauvignon Blanc are lime, green apple, passion fruit and white peach. Depending on how ripe the grapes are when the wine is made, the flavor will go from zesty lime to flowery peach. What makes Sauvignon Blanc unique are its other flavors such as bell pepper, jalapeño and grass and its dryness.

Chardonnay

Chardonnay is known as a winemaker's grape because it can grow in many climates and it can easily be made into a light and elegant or a full-bodied and buttery wine. But typically, Chardonnay is a dry, medium to full bodied wine with moderate acidity and alcohol. Its flavors range from apple and lemon to papaya and pineapple.

Pinot Noir

Pinot noir grapes (cépage) produce a style of wine that is typically medium-dry and fruit-forward. With medium acidity and low to medium tannins, the wine is particularly balanced. Originally from Burgundy in France, the grape is notoriously hard to grow but does quite well on New-Zealand soils.

Cabernet Sauvignon & Bordeaux Blends

Cabernet sauvignon is one of the most popular cépages. It's best known in the Bordeaux region of France, hence the common "Bordeaux blend" reference when it is used. The wine tends to be robust with medium acidity and tannins and flavors of rich, dark fruit. It is dry and medium to full-bodied. Aromas of tobacco and leather are often present.
